ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING
Wednesday, May 26, 2021
Gym D and Online Zoom - 6:00pm

1. Land Acknowledgement

The Annual General Meeting was called to order by Annie Danilko on Zoom at 6:11pm.

Welcome and acknowledge that we are on the unceded territories of the Coast Salish Nation, the Musqueam, Squamish and Tseil-Waututh.

Britannia is a centre of Reconciliation and we gather in spirit of one heart, one mind to care for our community. Didn't shut down during Covid closures and have continued to do great work for community. With thanks to amazing staff and volunteers we have been providing child care for frontliners, outreach to seniors, food deliveries to those in need, and support for youth & families.

2. President Welcome

Thanks for patience during tech glitches.

Everyone joining us in person in gym d was given paper copy of agenda, minutes from 2019, Annual report, candidate bios and a ballot.

For those online you'll see the blue buttons up top where you can access the documents and when the election begins you will be able to cast your vote by clicking the voting button.

There will be several Q&A opportunities throughout the AGM where our remote viewers can post their questions in the chat. Annie will help us field questions from our in-person attendees in Gym D.

Covid has really highlighted the stresses, such as homelessness, lack of green space, and also the strengths of our community, such as big hearts and activism.

The Board has lots of meetings as there was much to do at Britannia.

Strategic plan passed in February and now reviewing to see what may need revision. Susanne will be providing an update on Renewal process.

Reconciliation continues to be a focus for us. Have developed an Anti-Racism committee to chip away at the systems we're facing.

SEA committee were early adapters to the Zoom meetings

Coffee house went online in June and September which went well and featured great local music and poetry

Volunteers and staff have been fantastic. Contacted over 1500 people to connect them to outreach support and access to food. The emergency food depot is dealing with over 800lbs of food per day, with volunteers putting in over 5000 hours of work.

Happy to see many staff coming back again as we ease into opening facilities and programs.

Thank you to everyone for helping Britannia be better and able to do so much. Inspired by people in this community and privileged to be a part of it all.

3. Treasures Report

John has been treasurer for 9 years. Helping to manage a $8.5 million budget for a large organization that spends most of the money on our community.

Able to do work for our community in difficult times like Covid.

Thanks to Jeremy for maintaining finances and also thanks to the staff who have worked through this time.

No questions regarding the finance report. Please contact Jeremy or Cynthia if you want to see our audited financial report.

4. Executive Director Report

Thanks to the Board who have given lots of time over the months we've been dealing with Covid. Extra meetings, including over the summer which is normally a break.

Thanks to staff and volunteers who were able to keep Britannia open while most other centres and services had to stop at least a while. We were only closed completely for 2 days before we were contacting seniors and vulnerable people in our community, and were able to start getting food organized for those in need.

5. Q&A

No questions.

6. Planning & Development Committee Report

Susanne presented a slideshow that has been developed to give background and history of the process. She has been chair for about 5 years but the process of renewal has been going on a lot longer than that. Teka Everstz put the powerpoint together for an easy way to share a summary so far.

Reconciliation is built into our mandate now. Everything that happens in this community happens because of this community. From the beginning, when students at the high school lobbied people in the neighbourhood to have a centre built for the community. Michael Clague, the original ED, is still connected and working in neighbourhood at Carnegie.

This place was designed for/engaged with the settlers, and now to work on renewal with the indigenous people of this area.

Outline of timeline from 1997 when flaws of design began being pointed out, identified lack of space for arts & culture. 2007 new plan developed, and 2009 creative idea to engage SCARP to have students help design what a renewed site could look like.

2011 city gave money for additional consultation.

We are a unique partnership and need to engage all the partners to strategically plan the whole site

Then worked with capital plan staff

2017 – consultation stage, met with over 3000 citizens, had the BLAB, speaker series, etc

2018 City approves renewal plan

2019 RFP for org to help work through rezoning phase

-council decision - $10 million - $5 million – community amenity contributions

Bcss master plan response

At end of plan needed more time to review more deeply

Support with reservations

Concerns re: organization of site, phasing of what & when, non-profit hub, non-market housing

As we move to rezoning need to address all of these

Phase one

Engagement approach – 3 integrated and parallel – mainstream/community/indigenous

Some engagement was lacking but Brit stepped up on Indigenous engagement and now City wants to fund this more

Project plan / deep dive / site design (VSB wants at least 3 options to choose from)/ rezoning application

Phase one includes pool

Look at functional needs for that building

Pool & fitness committee have done lots of work on needs for this

Concerns and consideration raised – need to involve community in review

Ingrid mentioned how this community rose to the occasion especially during covid – always people who step up and look out for each other

Adapted to find ways to help ie tech access when library is usually where people access

Operational consideration

Renewal ongoing – meeting with city and they've agreed we need to move forward

Successful in getting 2 former planners with COV, one is now prof at UBC, Sean and Scott working closely with us

Next steps – letter to partnership table, share info, draft statement

City has approved consultants for next stages

Thank you
