

CALL FOR ABORIGINAL ARTISTS DEADLINE: NOVEMBER 30, 2019 for 2020 exhibitions

Britannia Art Gallery reserves its June exhibition slot for aboriginal artist(s) to exhibit their work. Accepted artist(s) are responsible for hanging and taking down their own show.

The gallery is in the Britannia Library and is a dual purpose space used also as the adult reading lounge. The gallery provides a non-alcoholic opening reception, a small honourarium of $250 total and artists showing in the gallery handle their own sales.

The gallery produces both electronic and hard copy invites, handles publicity through its in-house system.

Also available is the opportunity for an Artist's Talk and/or facilitating a 3 hour workshop both have small honourariums as part of the contract.

For application please go online at <http://www.britanniacentre.org> and find Applications under "Services" where you click on Arts and Culture. Under the gallery section are applications for exhibitions or workshops.

Any questions please email:
Haruko Okano/curator
harokano@telus.net